National Seminar

Topic: Health Laws in India: Issues & Challenges

Health and well being are deeply personal matters but being on the receiving end of it is what gives us new awareness on various aspects related to health. Every human has a right to highest attainable standard of physical and mental health. This right to health has thus evolved a whole system for protection of health. It ensures that every human has equal access to good quality of services for maintenance of sound health. Indian judiciary has recognized right to health as an indispensable part of right to life under Article 21.

Right to life does not connote merely animal existence rather it has a much wider meaning which includes right to health and medical care being essential for making the life of every person meaningful and purposeful with dignity of person. It is a basic human and fundamental right. Thus right to health was held as an as integral part of right to life and government has constitutional obligations to provide health facilities and medical services. At the same time implementation of right to health has its own highest challenges. Access to healthcare is compromised with poor services, deficient resources, lack of effective policies and legislations and similar hurdles. The role of local authorities thus arises to ensure creation and maintenance of appropriate conditions for protection and promotion of health of citizens. Being a mediatory between government and society as a whole, the local bodies, municipal corporations, health departments, etc. play a vital role in safeguarding right to health of public. Science and technology being synonymous to progress, also have an important role to play in promoting and protecting health of people.

Recent trends like organ transplantation, medical research, patenting, etc have raised many issues of ethics, morality quality, affordability and accessibility. Intellectual Property Rights acts as an incentive to innovators whereas on the other hand, the beneficiaries of technologies feel economically exploited.

The IPR laws, therefore, must strike a balance between these conflicting and competing values. Apart from this, these is a need to have other legislations also to address the ethical, moral and social issues arising out of technological advances and thus we have legislations like The Transplantations of Human Organs Act, 1994; Biomedical Waste Management and Handling Rules, 1998; Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940, etc.

Being directly related to the well being of an individual, maintenance of specific standards of nutrition, safe disposal of bio-medical waste, food safety, healthy and pollution free environment form substantial part of healthcare regime in India. The human tendency to exploit the market creates various ethical and moral duties for the healthcare service providers. Hence, a need arises to ensure that there is no exploitation of consumers of medical services.

Thus keeping in mind the broad perspectives of health laws in India, this seminar focuses on intersection between law and health.
Sub themes:

1. Right to health as a Fundamental Right.
2. Role of International institutions/Organizations in respect of human health.
3. Safeguards of interest of patients as consumers from Medical Negligence.
4. Effect of public health policy and practices.
6. An analysis of Laws and policies regarding health of tribal people.
7. Analysis of various legislations pertaining to Health laws in India.
8. Environment and public health.
9. Upholding ethical values: Role of local authorities.
10. Public health and judicial attitude.

National Debate Competition

Topic: Should Right to Health be Fundamental Right or Not

Debaters have been proven to become leaders and successful professionals. Countless corporate executives, influential lawyers, wealthy entrepreneurs and elected officials credit their debate experience in college with making them successful. The anecdotal evidence is overwhelming and suggests some of the following benefits.

- Debaters become better critical thinkers and communicators. People begin to see them in a different way.
- Debaters improve their social interactions. Debaters are not argumentative with their family and friends, but oddly enough, more understanding.
- Debaters improve their personal expression. There seems to be something in us as human being which wants to express ourselves. Their voices are heard.
- Debaters are more often seen as leaders. Studies in America show that those who communicate often and well, and give a balance of positive and negative comments, are seen as leaders. Leadership is given, not taken. Debaters are more likely to be given leadership.
- Debaters tend to become citizens in the real sense of the world - informed, active, participating, a force to be harnessed for the betterment of all.
National Legal Drafting Competition

“Drafting is one of the most intellectually demanding of all lawyering skills. It requires knowledge of the law, the ability to deal with abstract concepts, investigative instincts, an extraordinary degree of prescience, and organizational skills.”

Legal drafting is a type of technical writing used by Lawyers, Judges, Legislators and others in law to express legal analysis and legal rights and duties.

Legal writing in practice is used by advocates to express the resolution of a client’s legal matter. The creation of legal documents is integral to the practice of law. Litigators draft complaints and other pleadings, interrogatories, and jury instructions. Business lawyers draft articles of incorporation, and contracts ranging from employment of individuals to security of goods. Even criminal lawyers rely on plea agreements, motions in limine, appellate briefs, and writs of habeas corpus in representing their clients. Because of this, drafting skills are essential for every practicing lawyer.

Our National Legal drafting competition aims to provide the opportunity of learning and mastering this art. By this competition, an effort will be made to tap the drafting abilities of the students. In this competition, a legal problem will be given to the participants. The participants will have to draft the document within the stipulated time. These written submissions will then be judged by a panel of judges and marked.

National Client Counseling Competition

The Competition simulates a law office consultation in which two law students, acting as lawyers (attorneys/solicitors/legal practitioners), are presented with a client matter. The students conduct an interview with a person playing the role of the client. Students are expected to elicit the relevant information from the client, explore with the client his or her preferred outcome, outline the nature of the problem, and present the client with a means (or range of alternatives, if appropriate) for resolving the problem. The interview with the client is then followed by a post-consultation period during which the students, in the absence of the client, analyze the interview and discuss the legal and other work to be undertaken. The interview and post-consultation period last a total of 15 minutes. The students are evaluated by a panel of judges, usually composed of two lawyers and a counselor (e.g., social or welfare worker, psychologist, or another person with extensive experience in counseling). The inclusion of a non-lawyer counselor on the judging panel is designed to broaden the interdisciplinary perspectives of the panel both in terms of skills and possible solutions to a problem. The students are evaluated against specific criteria that emphasize the use of listening, questioning, planning, and analytical skills in a lawyer/client interview. Once the judges have completed their evaluation of the interview, the students are called back in and the Judges provide a brief critique of the team’s handling of the consultation and post-consultation periods.

10. Moot Problem

Dr. Rohit Sharma, after completing his graduation and post graduation in medicine, started working as an Assistant Professor at ABC Medical College in Delhi. He joined the college on 28-1-2016. Dr. Rohit Sharma was very happy with his job. One of his friends Tamanna who did MBBS with him joined the ABC Medical College, Delhi on 28-4-2016. Both of them were happily enjoying their professional life during which they fell in love with each other and decided to marry each other. Both of them took the consent from their parents and they agreed for their marriage. Their marriage solemnized on 8-8-2016. They were enjoying their married life happily.

After two months, Tamanna got pregnant. In the eighth month of her pregnancy, one day she was not feeling well. She suggested Rohit to go to college; while she would take rest as she was not feeling well. She was having stomach ache. Due to illness, she took 1 dose of pain killer. Even after 2 hours of taking that medicine, she was not feeling well so she took another dose of pain killer.

Immediately after that, she developed other problems like vomiting, weakness, stomach pain, etc. When she realized that the situation is out of control, she called up Rohit. He suggested her to call the ambulance and that he would be reaching to the hospital directly. She called the ambulance and was admitted to BRB hospital Delhi, which was a well known hospital of Delhi. She was straight away admitted in the ICU. Staff of the hospital took proper care of Tamanna. After midnight, she was shifted to the operation theatre (hereinafter referred as OT) for her delivery. Mr Rohit Sharma gave the consent and filled the consent form. No senior doctor was available at that time as the doctor on duty, Dr. Sanjay Vashisht, was occupied in the delivery of another critical patient, which also required the supervision of a Senior Doctor. However, the Junior Resident doctor, named Dr. Ronak Singh, examined her and prescribed one injection. The injection was to be injected just before the operation. Rohit hurriedly ran and went to the medical shop for buying the medicine. Rohit was under a lot of stress and tension. At the cash counter the injection got exchanged with some other person. Rohit gave that medicine to Dr. Ronak Singh, who was in a hurry for operating the pregnant lady on urgent basis. So, after giving it a passing glance once, he directed an Intern Doctor, who was undergoing his internship and research training under him, named Vakul Khosla, to give that injection to Tamanna. However, that was not the particular injection which was to be given. It was immediately observed by Dr. Ronak Singh that the dosage given to the patient was very high and incorrect due to which the CTG machine showed that the heart rate of the child started sinking (80/min.). At the very moment, the Senior Doctor, Mr. Sanjay Vashisht arrived at the OT. Thereafter the Senior Doctor directed to conduct emergency caesarean (LSCS) at 2:00 AM and at 3:0 AM a female dead baby was delivered by LSCS.

Mr Rohit filed a suit for compensation against the BRB hospital for the negligence of the doctor and for the damage caused to the health of Tamanna because of the wrong dosage given to her.

Argue in favour and against of Mr. Rohit. Frame your own issues.

Format

1. Each team shall consist of two student participants and would be allotted a room for the interview and counseling. Here, the two student participants will present themselves as advocates in a lawyer’s chamber. The client will be a person trained by the organizers and the advocates will counsel the clients regarding the given problem. The two participants are required to elicit all relevant information from the client by interviewing or questioning the client and then counsel the client.

2. All teams will be given their team codes (as, T1, T2, T3 etc.) by the organizers through e-mail to their respective e-mail IDs.

3. The Competition consists of one round.

4. The highest scoring team among all the teams will be titled as the Winner of Loi Fiesta 2017 National Client Counseling Competition.

5. The Consultation Period (Interview Period)
   All teams will go through a 15 minutes session. The first 10 minutes are devoted for consultation with the client during which lawyers are expected to elicit the relevant information, outline the problem and propose a solution or other means of resolving the problem (Further information is contained in the Judging Standards for the Client Counseling Competition.) During the consultation and post-consultation, the team may use books, notes and other materials. The team may also use office props (Dictaphones, Files, desktop, furnishings, bookshelves etc.) and any other material to furnish their consultation room.

6. Post Consultation Period (Post Interview Period)
   During the post-consultation period, the students may either talk to each other loudly enough to be overheard by the judges, or dictate a file memorandum on the interview, or both. The concept behind the post-consultation period is to summarize the interview, indicate the scope of the legal work to be undertaken, and state the legal issues that should be researched. Explanation of the position or attitude taken by the students may be useful. Judges may question the teams during the post consultation period.
7. If the students feel that some documents are appropriate, like a letter to the client confirming their retention as attorneys, the fee arrangement etc, or a letter to opposing counsel or to the party with whom the client is having their legal problems, they may dictate such a document at the post consultation stage.

8. The Judges may penalize students who allow the interview session to run excessively beyond the 10 minute period allotted in the rules. However the judges in their discretion, taking into account the circumstances, may allow some more time beyond the 10 minute period for the interview session. If the extended consultation session allowed an opportunity for a team to gather more information than other teams, this circumstance should be taken into consideration by the judges in making their decision. Judges should stop students after 15 minutes regardless of whether the students are in the consultation or post-consultation process.

Judging Standards

1. Establishing the working atmosphere: The lawyers established the beginning of an effective professional relationship and working atmosphere and at an appropriate point oriented the client to the special nature of the relationship (confidentiality, duration and plan of interview, methods of contact, explanation of fees and responding to client’s concerns, mutual obligations and rights, after hours availability, complaints procedure etc.) in a courteous, sensitive and professional manner.

2. Listening to the problem: The lawyers learnt how the client viewed his or her situation, using a combination of listening and questioning, drawing out both information and feelings, as appropriate, to develop a reasonably complete and reliable description of the problem and reflecting this understanding to the client. In this regard relevant information voluntarily said by the client could be elicited by asking relevant specific questions.

3. Identification of client’s goals, expectations and requirements: The lawyers learned the client’s goals and initial expectations and modified or developed them as necessary, giving attention in doing so to all aspects of the problem, including the emotional ones.

4. Problems Analysis: The lawyers analyzed the client’s problem with creativity and from both legal and non-legal perspectives, resulting in a clear and useful formulation of the problem by asking relevant specific questions.

5. Legal analysis, alternative courses of action and the giving of advice: Legal analysis and the consequent legal advice given should be both accurate and appropriate to the situation and its context. Consistent with the analysis of the client’s problem develops a set of potential and feasible alternatives, if any, both legal and non-legal.

6. Effective conclusion: The lawyers concluded the interview skillfully, and left the client with feeling of reasonable confidence and understanding, with appropriate reassurance, and with a clear sense of specific expectations and mutual obligations to follow.

7. Team work: The lawyers as collaborating counsellors, worked together as a team, with flexibility and an appropriate balance of participation.
8. Continued an ethical and professional relationship throughout the interview: The lawyers recognized, clarified and responded to any moral or ethical issues which may have arisen, without being prejudicial in judgments. The lawyers developed an appropriate balance in dealing with the legal and emotional needs of the client.

9. Debriefing (Post interview Reflection): The lawyers, during the post consultation time, gave evidence of having recognized their own and the client’s feelings; the strengths and limitations of their interviewing skills; their handling of the substantive aspects of the client's problems (both legal and non-legal); the quality and appropriateness of their Advice and provided for an effective follow-up. Judges should expect to see evidence of students learning through making this reflection on the experience of the interview.
